

SCOTT GREGORCHUK WINS PRIVATE ASSET MANAGEMENT'S “LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD”

Each year Private Asset Management recognizes an individual for his or her lifetime achievements and contributions in the wealth management industry, be it as an executive in private banking, advising clients as a registered independent adviser, or a leader in the family office space.

Private Asset Management chose Scott Gregorchuk, who exemplifies all aspects of leadership in private wealth. Mr. Gregorchuk has dedicated nearly 25 years of his life in various roles as a wealth management executive. To his clients, he is a trusted adviser. To the industry, he is a gregarious leader.

Mr. Gregorchuk began his wealth management career at the private client services division at Goldman Sachs as a senior investment professional advising ultra-high net worth family groups on their investment needs and prepare them for wealth creating events and wealth transfers.

From Goldman Sachs, Mr. Gregorchuk transitioned to Morgan Stanley, where he continued to advise high net worth clients on their investment allocations and wealth-creating decisions. During his time at Morgan Stanley's private wealth management business, Mr. Gregorchuk oversaw the opening of the firm's mid-Atlantic office, as well as headed the firm's New York office, and Northeast Region. He served as managing director and co-headed The Private Wealth Management division in the US and Canada.

Following his tenure at Morgan Stanley, Mr. Gregorchuk joined Citigroup in 2005 and formed Global Private Partners to service Citigroup's "most significant individual clients," also directing the activities of the Citigroup family office, Global Private Partners, the Corporate and Executive Solutions Group, the Special Investments Area, and the partnership with the Citigroup Investment Bank. Afterward, he served as managing director of JP Morgan Chase's US private bank in New York.

After an illustrious career in many of the world's most well-known private banks and wealth management firms, Mr. Gregorchuk is currently a partner and Executive Chairman of LGL Partners where he continues to advise families and is well-known in the industry as a dedicated and reliable consultant and speaker on wealth management topics.

Thank you, Scott, for your dedication, and congratulations.
